Professional bio

Xosé A. Touriñán is an actor, producer, and creator with a career spanning more than twenty years in Galician audiovisual media and performing arts. He has developed his career across television, theatre, and film, establishing himself as one of the most recognized figures in contemporary Galician comedy, while also exploring other acting ranges.

Throughout his career, he has participated in numerous television programs and series, as well as in impactful film and theatre projects. On stage, he stood out especially with the show Somos Criminales, alongside Carlos Blanco, which ran for more than five years in Galician theatres and attracted over 125,000 spectators.

In 2019, he was also a producer and actor in Fariña, a project with which he toured stages across Galicia and the rest of Spain. In 2022, he made his directorial debut with the short film Nena, which received more than fifty selections and awards at national and international festivals.

He combines his acting work with cultural production and the direction of his own projects, such as the Castelo Conta festival, which he organizes every summer in his hometown and which has become a key event in the Galician cultural calendar.
